Set your watch at 1987. Like clockwork, students arrive at Saint Joseph's. Entering campus, we notice the beauty that surrounds us. For some it is a new beauty, for others it is very familiar. We have made a transition from an old world to a new world; a world that will become a lasting part of us.

Another touchdown for the Puma football team as Rory Johnson signals the success in the endzone. Freshmen gladly prepare for life on campus as they carry the essential refrigerator from the car. The Chapel is once again illuminated by a sunset that so often seems to typify the Saint Joseph's skyline.

A friendly little chat takes place by the pond among Missy Himes, Kate Feelev, Jenny Worden and Debbie Stokes.

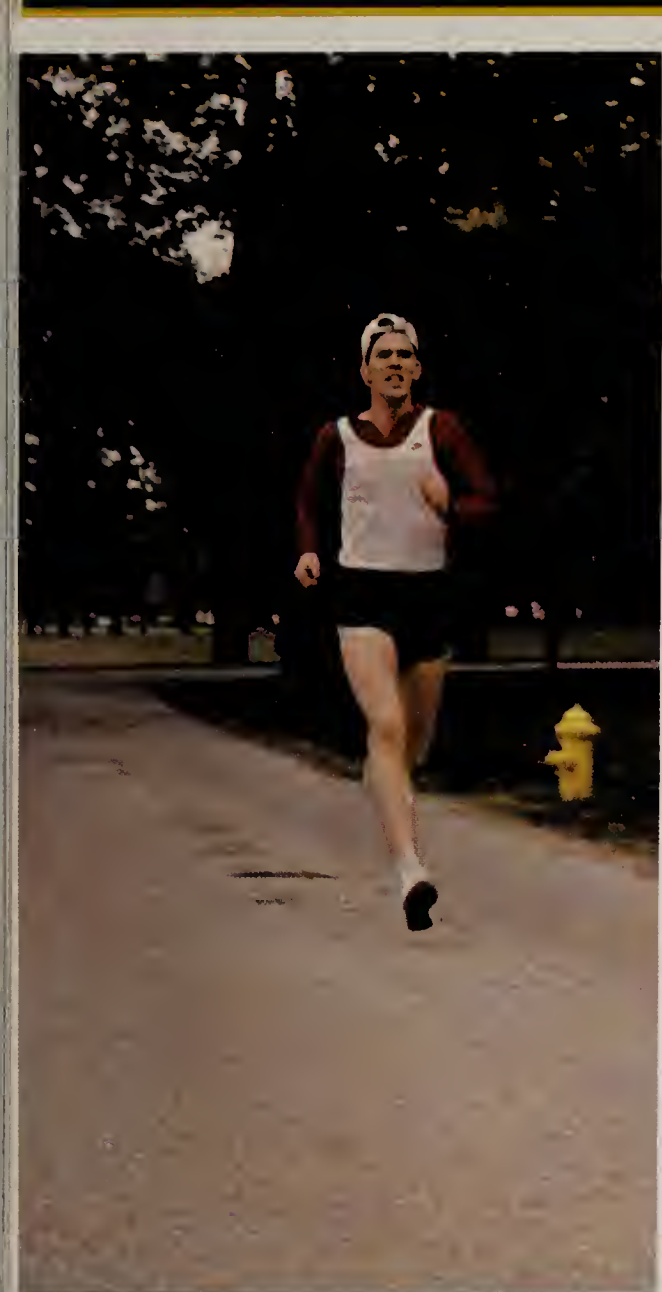

Ellen Hadala, Colleen McDonald and Ang Fought just hangin' out in the restroom.

Tim Daly, S.A. President, informs some freshman girls about life on campus. Parents are taking in a few sights from a Halleck window. Melvin Winston and Chris Connelly share a smile. Jon Barrow and Rick Denham take time outside the Ballroom for a pose.

Mark Boyle kicks in the final strides in the Homecoming race.
Students head to Halleck for class.

As the minutes tick by, we begin to meet the people who are Saint Joseph's. With these people we learn, we laugh, we love, and we live. With them our good times and our bad times are shared. It is with these people that we will grow, and it is with these people that we form a family; the family of Saint Joe's.

Check the time. It is 1988
Graduation draws near and we realize that another year is coming to an end. Some of us will be back to experience the world of Saint Joseph's again, while others of us will move on to yet another world.
Yet, all of us will look back on the days we have spent together; the minutes we have shared will become our memories.

Lori Chelbana and Lisa Stockdill took time out to clean up a campus friend.
As a variation to the cafe food, the gang opted for hotdogs on the grill.
Ernest Watson and Debbie Stokes frolicked in the summertime fun.

Larry sets up for a pass down the field.

Freshmen Welcome

For Freshmen, it is a time of Orientation. They are officially welcomed to the new world of Saint Joe's — by a greeting committee of R.A.'s, freshman leaders, and academic advisors. In a weekend packed with events, the freshmen develop their academic program, become familiar with the campus, and become acquainted with other members of their class.

Dr. Nichols counsels an incoming freshman in her course of studies.
Brother Ed checks Jon Barrow's schedule as he goes through the registration process.
Ken Rasp mingles with some students and parents.

Officer Watson registers cars outside the Ballroom.

Representatives from St. Elizabeth's School of Nursing prepare their new program through Saint Joseph's.
Chris Connelly, Angie Bruns, and Diane Jennings embrace in a group hug.

Homecoming '87

October 3, 1987: a weekend that Saint Joseph's College students could never forget. The planning started months in advance getting the band lined up, fliers out to alumni and enough beer and brats for the tent. Just about all of the students were involved in one way or another.

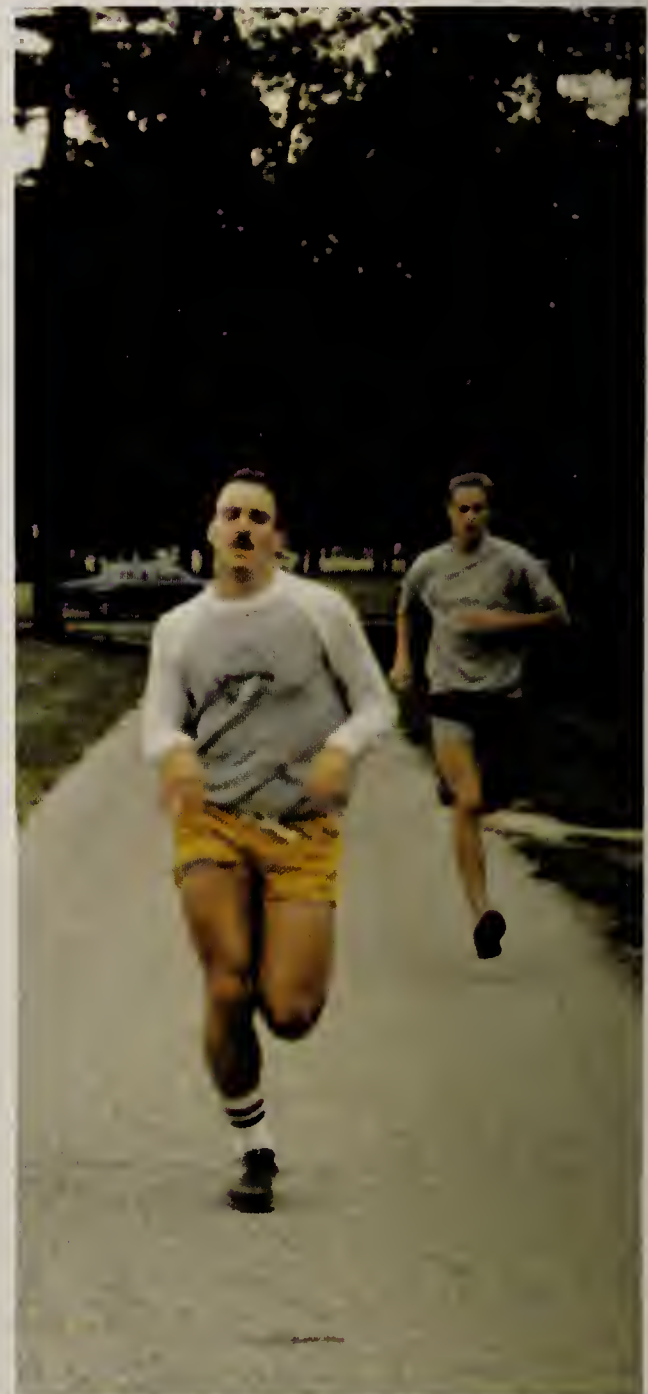

The 1987 Homecoming Court waited patiently for the announcement of the queen only to discover that the queen was the court member who was not present.

Even Spuds made it to Collegeville for Homecoming.

The winners of the 5K race were Jerry Redmond (3rd), Mike Boyle (2nd), and Mike Boyda (1st).

Sean Hanlon appears to have run the 5K race with ease.

The festivities began Saturday morning with the annual 5K race through SJC campus. Winners were Mike Boyda, men's division, and Heidi Owens, women's division. There was also a parade through downtown Rensselaer. Each class was represented along with SA officers, board members, and various other campus organizations.

The cafeteria was all decked out for dinner Friday night of Homecoming. Without fail, the Accounting-Finance club makes a fine entry for the Homecoming parade. The football team stood by the sidelines cheering with great anticipation. Saint Joe Pumas score six points.

Ana Colon-Stalzer and friends were swinging to the sound of the Homecoming band.

Coach Minelli took off the coach's hat and got out onto the field. Here, he tried to get one by goalie, Joe Bosch. Alums Barclay Dwight, Darren Gorey, Matt Kiley, and Father Stang took part in the alumni soccer game. Rory Johnson caught the pass, moving the Puma attack down the field.

Homecoming '87

Kara Borgetti, Peggie Bott, and Joan Hendrie had a good ol' time at the mixer Friday night. As seconds ticked down in the first quarter, the Pumas pulled ahead with yet another touchdown. Deluxury kept the Puma students rockin' and rolling as they performed during Friday night's mixer.

The Saint Joseph's football team played Evansville and again came up winners. This victory added to the Homecoming festivities along with the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Maureen Field. Although Maureen was away at a varsity volleyball game, her court cheered her on. The court consisted of Trish Szucs, Natalie Penz, Kerin O'Rourke, and Cheryl Bukowski.

The soccer team also got into the Homecoming spirit with its alumni game Saturday morning. The reserve team came out on top and showed the Alumni what they were made of.

Saturday evening also held a great deal of activity. There was a dinner with new and old SA presidents, and various other college officials, Mike Valone was presented with an award for his dedication to the SJC community. There was also a dance featuring "Deluxury" and various campus parties where friends and alumni gathered.

Parents were greeted at Halleck Center upon their arrival.

John Waters dribbles down the field.
Tom Gorski and his father take a stroll to Halleck Center.
Proud soccer parents watched their sons take on Kentucky Wesleyan.
Mike Riley and his parents partook of one of the best meals in the cafe, Sunday brunch.

Parent's Weekend

Every year at Saint Joseph's, students and faculty celebrate a special weekend, that is for parents and family. Parents Weekend, in October, was a time for parents to spend time with their children.

Special events were sponsored to give students and parents a chance to socialize with everyone. The football game, beer and brat tent, along with the play presented by the Columbian players all provided entertainment.

There was also a special dinner in the Ballroom for those wishing to attend.

The weekend did allow for students and their parents to get together and make memories that will last a lifetime.

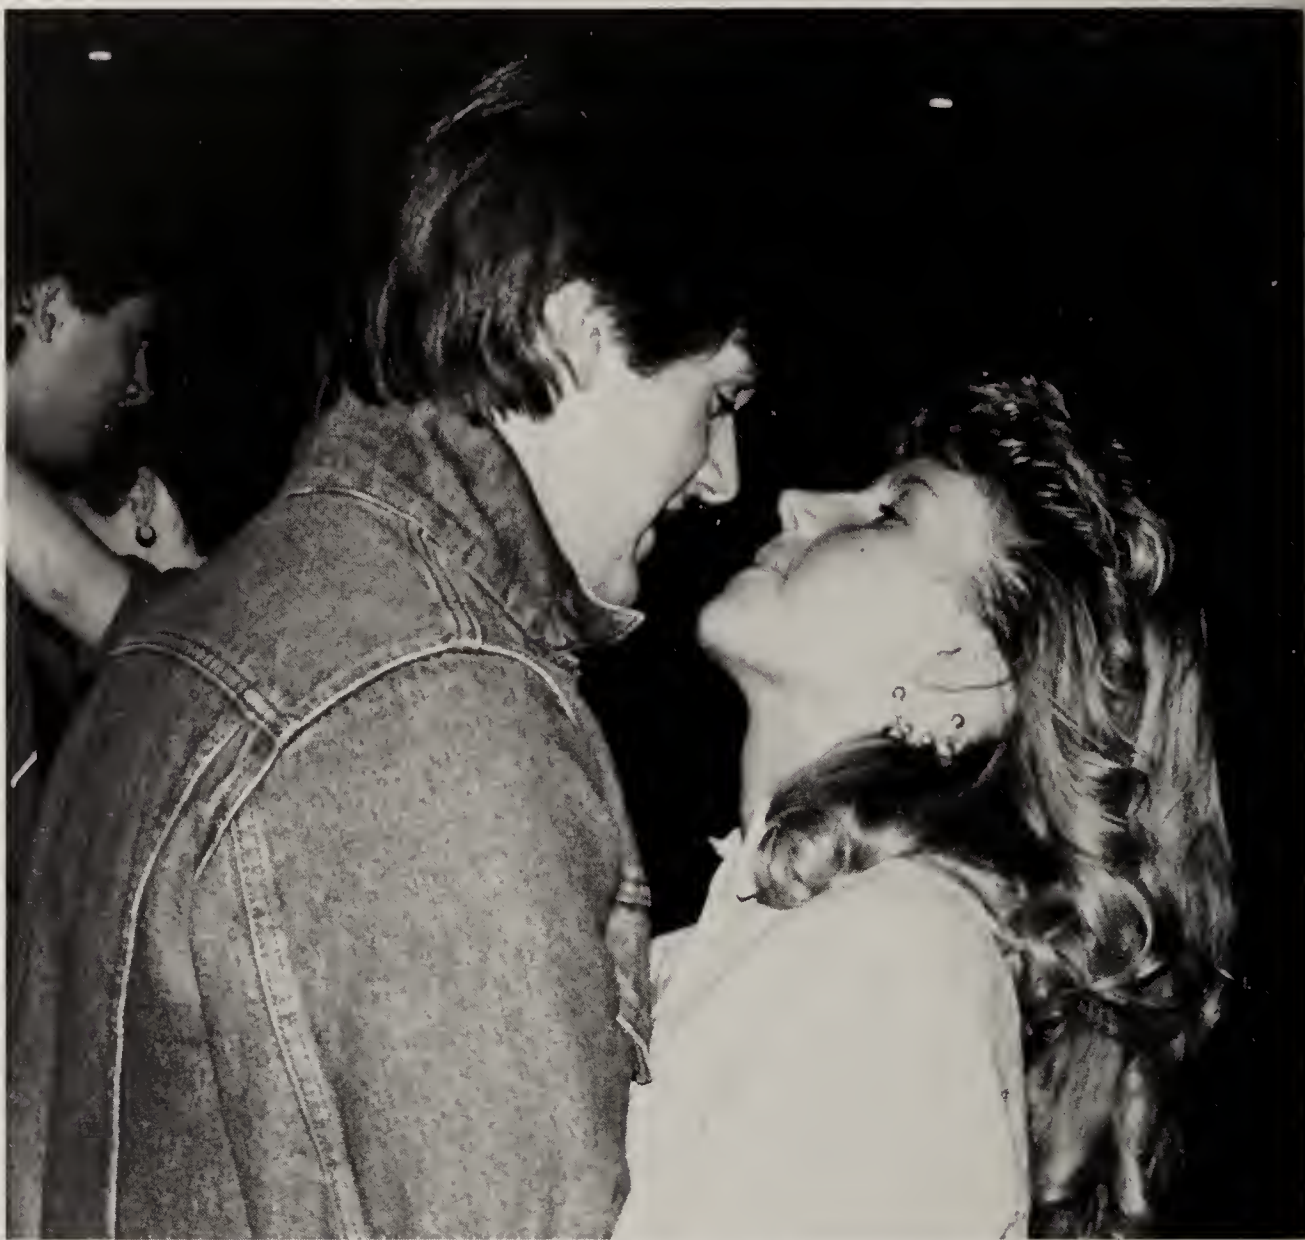

The beer and brat tent was once again filled to capacity. The Pumas were set for the snap. Kathleen Ott was accompanied by her father. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald enjoyed their day on campus.

Super Dance

Dana Elliott is dancing to the groove of the D.J.'s tunes.
Kevin McDonald and Nic Dombrowski make the best of a slow dance as they gaze into each other's eyes.
Residents of Justin second west and first east sit this number out.
Gretchen Siegel flaunts the Super Dance t-shirt.
Gretchen and Mike Boyda should be congratulated for the success of the second annual Super Dance.

Puma Football

"Defense attack, push that offense back!" This was the chant shouted at each and every Puma football game.

The Saint Joseph's College football team was quite diligent in their attempt to be number one in division two GLVC conference. The season started off as usual. The Puma football team arrived two weeks before classes began to begin practicing.

As the first game of the season approached against Illinois Benedictine College, the team was ready. They played hard and well against all of their opponents showing that the Puma spirit was truly alive.

The 1987 season ended in disappointment but not disgrace. They had played a great and exciting season, showing both good offense and defense on the field.

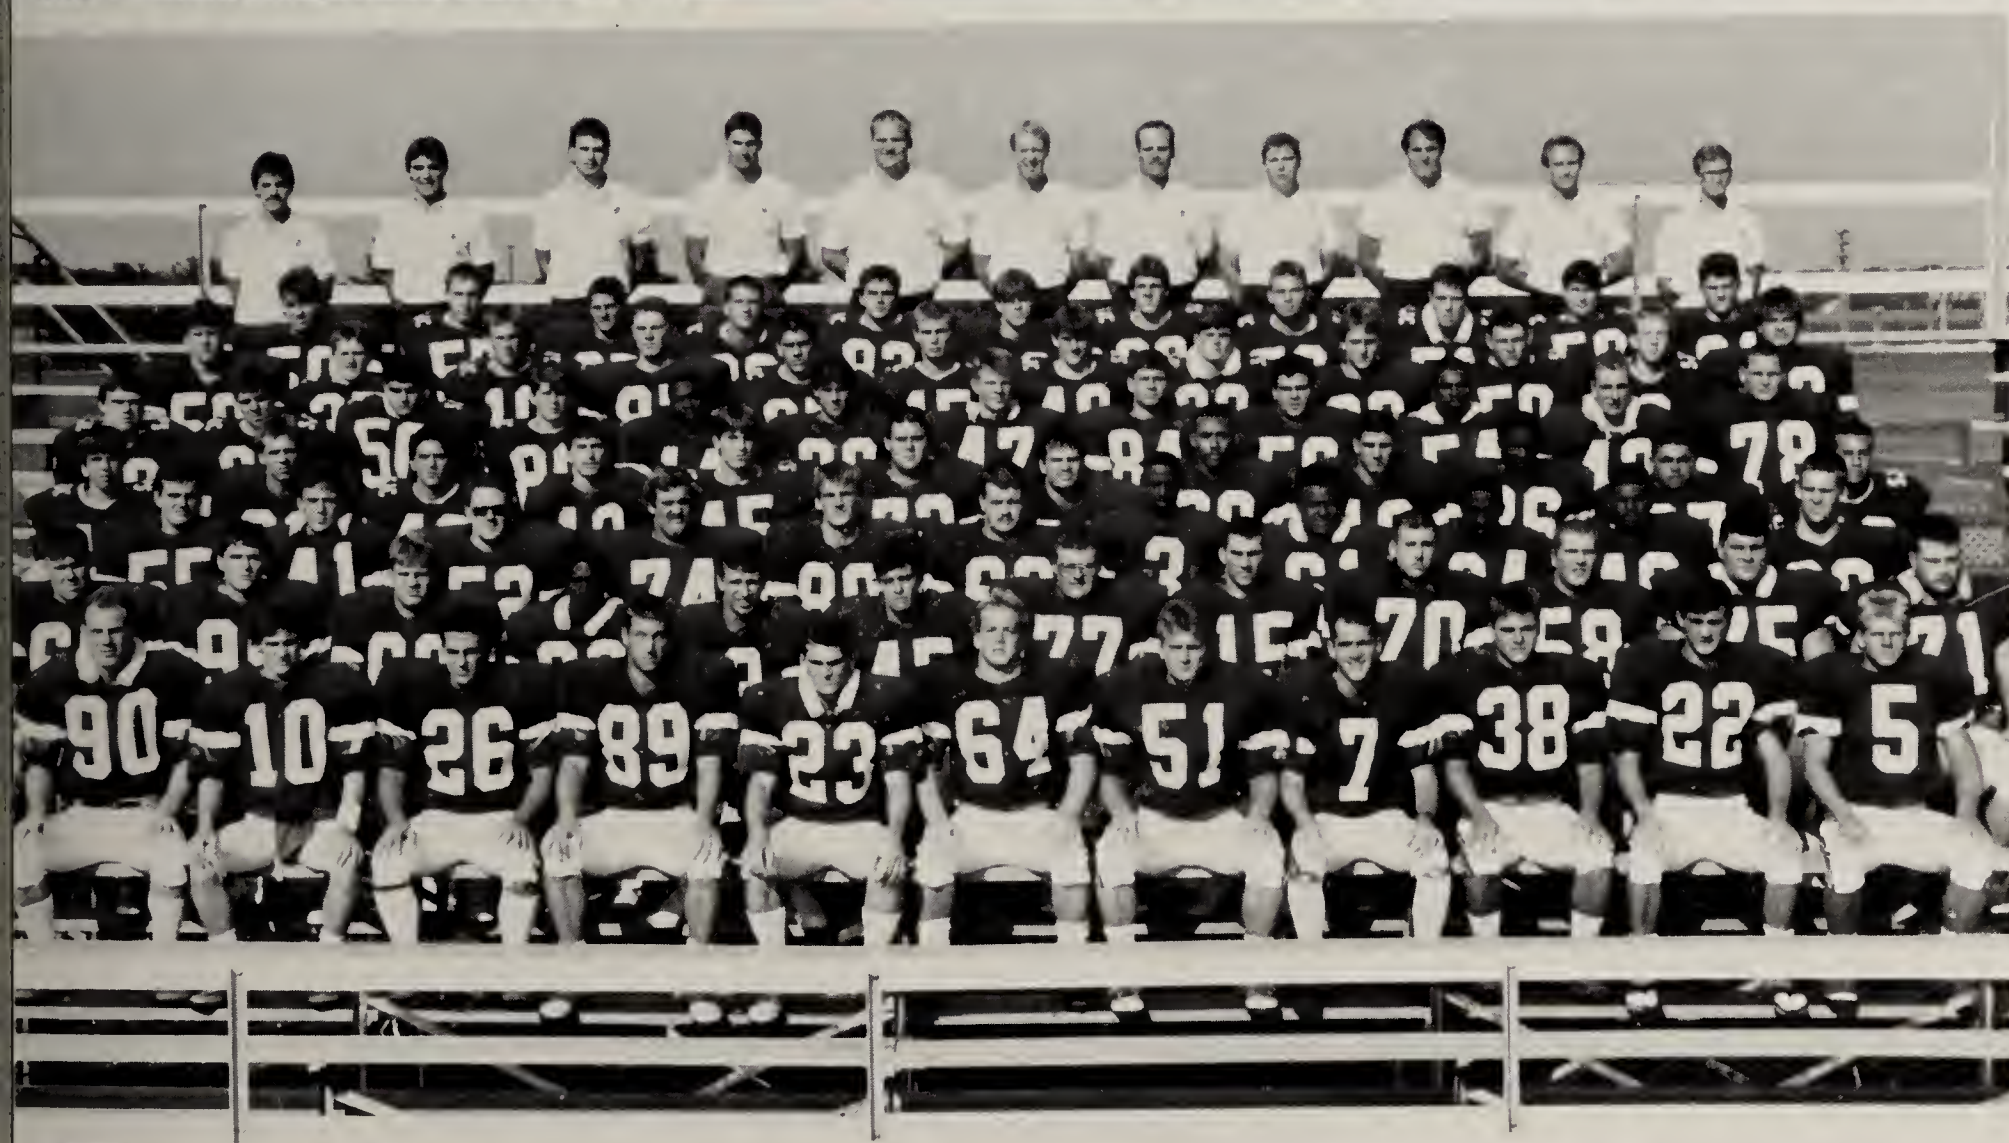

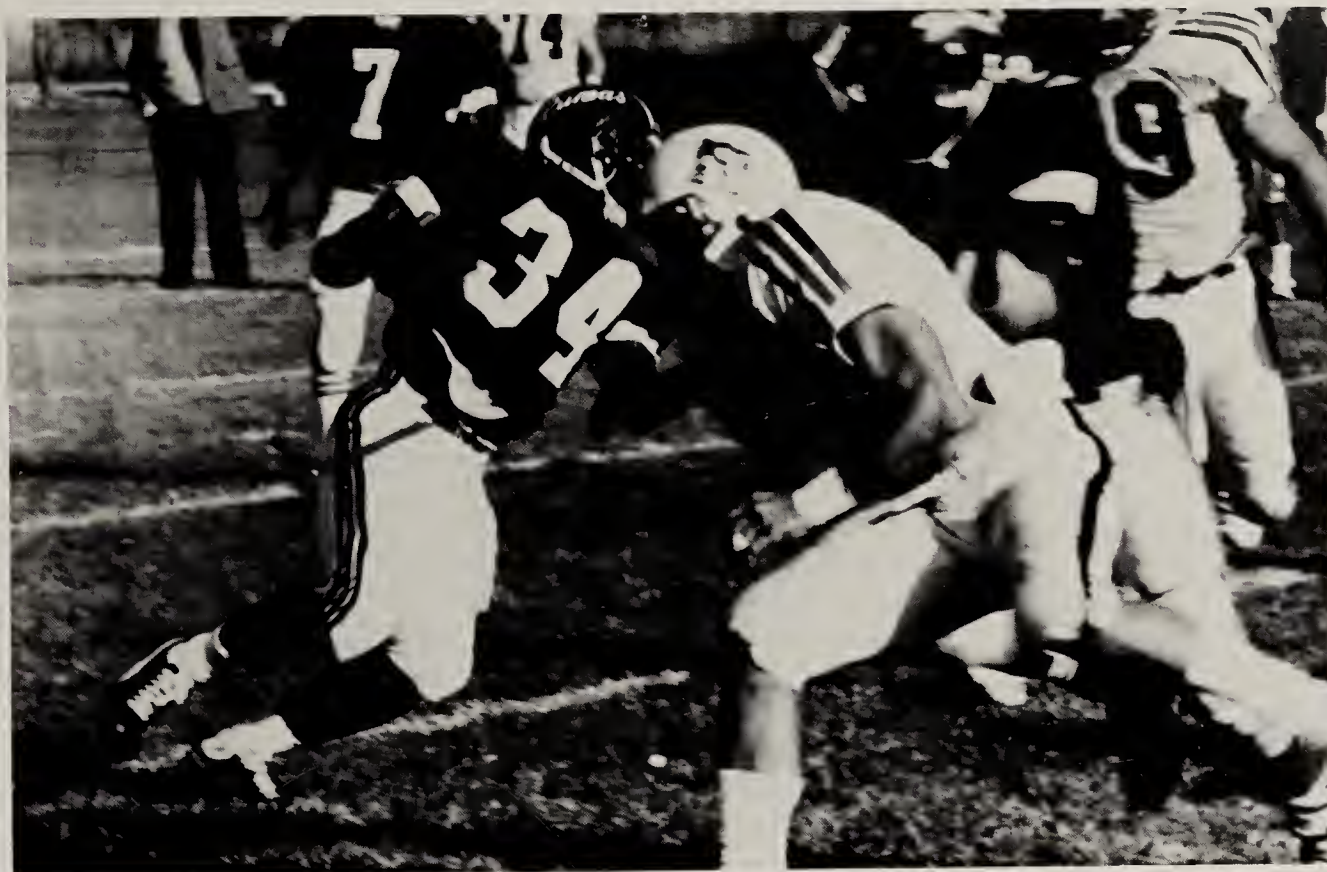

Derek Eager kicks for a field goal before his opposition blocks the attempt.
Dennis Griesey fakes out one of Evansville's defensive lineman as he runs for a first down.

Pat Leonard throws a bomb to one of his running backs before he is taken down.

Jeff Farichild tries to gain a few yards before being tackled.
Jimmy Allen makes a sharp cut to avoid his opponent.

Volleyball

Whether volleyball is played by men, women, on grass, sand, or a floor, it is an exciting, fast-paced game. This enjoyable pastime is even more fun for some when played against a rival school like Lewis University in an organized sports program.

The women's volleyball team traveled across the skies participating in a Florida Tournament during midterm break first semester. They had their share of fun and heartaches as they completed their season with an 8-17 record. The Lady Pumas showed a great deal of heart, not giving up until the game was over.

Lori Kiel makes use of her knee pads as she dives for the ball making a save for the Pumas.

The Saint Joseph's men's varsity basketball team gave the spectators many thrills and chills during the 1988 season.

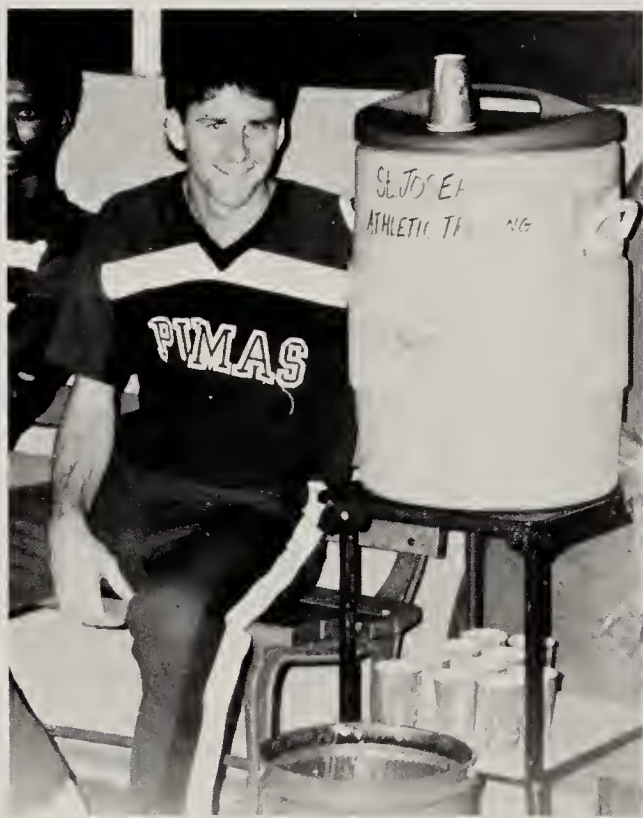

A few changes and restrictions were made this season. The NCAA decided that the throwing of toilet paper was not to be permitted. This ruling didn't come until the last portion of the season. Therefore, whenever the Pumas scored their first point, rolls of toilet paper were thrown out onto the court. This was a show of support by the fans. Even after the NCAA ruling on toilet paper, support was shown by the adoring fans in other ways. The Saint Joseph's fans brought noise makers, pots, pans, spoons, and anything else they could find that made noise to show their support.

The other changes the team experienced were from within. During the first few weeks of practice, Lowell Harper, one of the star recruits, was injured. The accident kept him out for the entire season. However, the team still was in good spirits. They knew they had talent and the ability to go far this season. Yet, another setback occurred. Jerry Alicea was also injured. It seemed as if something was trying to stop the Pumas from going places. But when things started to look bad, something else started looking better. Jerry's knee healed; Stan Kappers shot his 2000th basket at Saint Joe's.

The Pumas did well this season. The never lost faith and now next season is only around the corner!

Men's and Women's Cross-Country

During the 1987 cross country season, both the male and female teams suffered from a shortage of runners. Together the teams totaled twelve runners. Although the teams were low on runners, they were not low on morale or spirit. During meets the teams encouraged each other and cheered for victory. They began to push and support each other in their quest for victory.

The women completed their season with junior Karen Deno capturing fifth in the GLVC championships. However, the men were not that successful in their efforts. They were disqualified for not having the required number of participants.

Men's Golf

Poise and concentration are skills necessary to participate in the game of golf. At Saint Joseph's College, the golf team has mastered these skills. Under the superior instruction of Coach Dale Anderson, the golf team, consisting of ten participants, played an exciting and rewarding season. They had their ups and downs, like any part of life. Yet, they held on to their love for the sport of golf.

1987 Fall Baseball Team

The SJC Fall Baseball team did impressively well this season. The team had a very good season playing thirteen doubleheader games. The team ended the season on a good note with a record of 13 and 7.

"We did our best during the Fall Baseball season," remarked Junior first baseman, Ron McGowan.

The students and fans supported the team with great numbers in attendance. At every double header there were always enough fans to pep up the squad when they were in a slump. "I was impressed by the spirit of such a young squad," said Thaddeus Wilkins.

The team improved since last season. They showed the greatest improvement in the area of team depth and team speed. The team as a whole ran faster and passed faster. These were the two positive realities that left Coach Stitz cautiously optimistic for Spring Baseball.

Men's Soccer

Soccer is a game of speed, balance and team cooperation. Even though the team was a rather young one this year, the players became great at these objectives with the careful instruction of Coach Mike Minielli. Under his superlative guidance, the SJC soccer team ended the season on a good note with a respectable record.

Women's Tennis

The women's tennis team is often overlooked by most, if not all, Saint Joseph's students, but it's probably one of the most exciting teams on campus.

This year's team was ambitious with four new players when they took to the courts.

The team as a whole played hard all season, from their first meet on September 10 until their last one on October 9. Even though tennis is an individual sport, the players needed the rest of the team for support when things began to look bad. They were there for each other.

The team didn't end the season with a great victory, but they can be proud and walk with their heads held high.

Debbie Freche keeps her eye on the ball to follow through with her hand/eye coordination. Maureen Crowley makes every effort to make contact with the ball.

SOFTBALL

Junior Cheryl Kazmierczak rips the ball straight down the third base line for a base hit against Notre Dame.

Look at the stretch on that first baseman. Julie DePew stretches to make the catch from the second baseman for a double play.

Senior Joanne Grasser reaches for the ball in hopes that she can put out the runner who is quickly approaching base.

Pitcher Terri Meier ducks out of the way so that short stop, Vicki Flemal, can fire the ball to the first baseman for the out.

B a s k e t b a l l W o m e n ' s

The season started off as usual, but it didn't end up that way. The Saint Joseph's Lady Pumas showed true determination. They played hard and never gave up. For example, in the game where the ladies were down by two, the clock had less than ten seconds on it, and the other team had the ball. The Pumas came back to win the game. Spectacular is what that was!

Many records were broken. Jeanette Yeoman set the Alumni Fieldhouse record of fifty points. In the last game of the season the ladies played Northern Kentucky. The gym was packed. The game lasted for five consecutive overtimes, an NCAA record. Over half of the starters had fouled out. The coaches had to rely on their reserve players. When all of the smoke cleared, the Lady Pumas came out on top. It was spectacular!

The Pumas were regional champions and ranked eighth in the nation.

One of the most intense battles on campus is between east Seifert and Bennett on the I.M. football field.

Angie Bruns has a look of great determination as she heads down field to cover a pass. Mike Sherkey is caught hanging in the air after a spike.

Brian Morton and Ana Colon-Stalzer keep their eyes on the ball readying for a set.

The crew of cart #37 is pictured with the winner of the 1988 Little 500, Dave Downard. Dave Sullivan and friends make use of the Merlini staircase for a vantage point during the race. Carl Fech (far left) and Dave Lund (far right) are ready for a night in Core XI. Ray Loffredi enters the cart for Italia Racing. Tom Kuhar is quite laid back in a lounge chair in his room.

Jason Post and Rick Fedder have their hands full, gladly.

Brian Schumann diligently works on a paper in the lounge.

Larry Schmit moves in to tackle the ball from his opponent.

Father Ben Berinti has been the adult in residence in Gallagher for the past three years. The Gallagher lawn was the hot spot for several gatherings this year.

2,
1988

... And Life Must Go On

You were with us from September to March,
And we had such a great time.
You were the Life of the party,
But now your Life is done.

Whenever we passed in the hall
Or even on the way to class,
We always said hello,
But now we say good-bye.

You were very nice to everyone you touched
By either something you said or something you did.
You were here with a family who loved you,
Like the Good Lord does to all.

We held a Mass for you
To help you on your way,
Now you are with The Father
In the place all will go.

We only wish you would have stayed
For a little while longer,
Because there was so much to do
We can only think, what could've been.

We saw you grow like a flower in the Spring
But now you are at home with The Father and The Son.
At night we saw the moon and something rather strange,
You looking down upon us in the shape of a ring.

We bid you farewell and hope you are o.k.,
For now you are gone AND LIFE MUST GO ON.

Mary Bosch and Russell Schleyer stand at the chicane to watch the Little 500.
Chris Carlson pays Linda Knick a visit.
Helping to support Core XI is Jane Maginot with bartender, Dale Ethridge.
Deanne Houston and Lisa Majewski help Dawn Hodge with some typing for the blood mobile.

Bennett Pig Roast

Alumnus, Kevin Heggi, offers a helping hand to senior, Tom Doorley, in preparing the grill for the pig.
Bill Edinger patiently waits while Todd Clark and Tom Kuhar diligently work at carving the main attraction at the Bennett Pig Roast.
John Matlon and Tom Brady bravely face the roving camera while Marty Byrne ducks behind John to prevent being photographed.
The host of the Bennett Pig Roast (center of photo) wants to capture the moment for posterity.

The host of the party is tying one on with Neal gang gathers outside Merlini for the best view of the Little 500 race.

Man's best friend gets some attention from Jamie Anderson. It's too bad that one can't recognize true talent. Sorry, girls. Floormates, Vicki Munk and Jenny Nagel relax with some suds. Members of the basketball team display their more academic personalities.

Organizations

Fantastics

Mike Hodge and Kim Parker-Marsh teamed up as two meddling parents who attempted to keep their children apart, but the children end up falling in love with each other before the end of the play. The perfect comedian and his sidekick. Mark Kroll plays the part of the conniver, the thief, and the all around bad guy who is taken care of by his little Indian friend with an English accent, played by Colette Schreiber. The match is somewhat like Yogi the Bear and Boo-Boo.

The cast of Fantastics: Row 1: Mark Randall, V. Ogren. Row 2: John Rahe, Mark Kroll, Mike Hodge, Kim Parker-Marsh, Colette Schreiber, Joan Horvat. With body language, a mute Joan Horvat answers a question for a puzzled Del Gato, played by Professor John Rahe. Del Gato's purpose was to see that the young man and the young lady ended up together by the end of the play, although he was hired by the parents to do just the opposite.

Bus Stop

Kris Schubach plays a very wide-eyed, romantic, naive high school girl who is employed at the diner. She quickly falls in love with a drunken Mark Randall who is supposedly a college professor. The young girl learns that the professor is not as he seems and she quickly falls out of love again.

Angela Fought consoles a guest played by Val Ogren, who has been stranded at her diner due to a snow storm.

The sheriff, Brian Morton, jumps between an angry cowboy, Jim Jones, and the cowboy's newly acquired girlfriend to prevent a fight. Matt Hapke backs out of the line of action, but keeps a close eye on the sheriff.

Angela Fought as the bus-stop owner, nuzzles up to the driver of the stranded bus to discuss their secret meeting without anyone else noticing.

Many times throughout "Bus Stop," Brian Morton had to show a little muscle as an officer of the law to prevent Bo, Jim Jones, from bothering Cheri, played by Val Ogren.

Ten Little Indians

Matt Hapke, the butler, relays a message to Brian Morton, Judge Wargrave. Seth Johnson, a detective who has assumed an alias, tells of his background and how he came to know the host of this weekend venture. Toni Amico, portraying a delivery person, carries her parcel to Dawn Hodge, the maid. Judy Dever plays a very contrary, boisterous associate of the host.

POMS AND CHEERLEADERS

"What do you do to a Puma you meet? You get down on your knees, you can't pray on your feet. You ask a mighty Puma for his mercy to give, and maybe, just maybe, he'll let you live!" That was a cheer said at Saint Joseph's College games across the country.

The cheerleaders at Saint Joe's had spirit and spunk. They put themselves into each cheer, getting the crowd to respond with forceful support of the school. With the help of the Puma, both the male and female cheerleaders "Jacked the House" arousing the spectators.

The pom pons helped tremendously in arousing the crowd. They performed their favorite routine from the song, "Where's the Party" by Madonna at every game. This gave the crowd a familiar tune to rock to during half time.

The cheerleaders, pom pons, and the Puma worked together in pepping up the players and the crowd during their performances.

Little 500

"Only one more turn to Victory Lane." Dave Downard skillfully masters the chicane to bring home a sure victory.

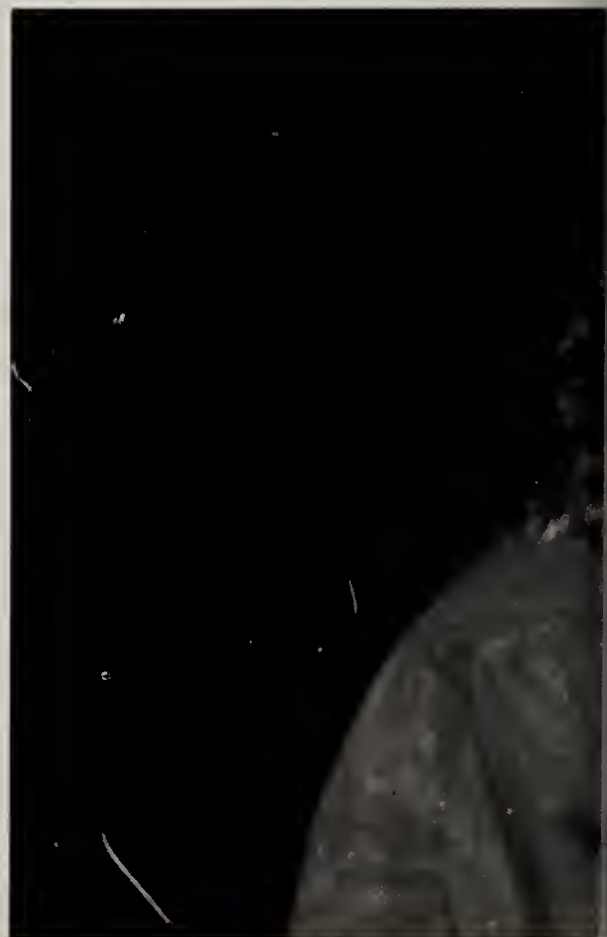

Fr. Banet congratulates the Silver Anniversary Little 500 Winner, Dave Downard, as Mrs. Downard (Dave's Mom) bubbles over with pride.

"Did you see him?" "I did more than that, I touched his arm." No, it's not the President or the Pope. This is the crowd that swarmed in around Dave Downard as he finished his victory lap.

Fr. Bill Stang gets a helping hand from two of his crew. John Flores and Dawn Hodge assist in the last minute preparation before the race.

The race is over, but the fun hasn't stopped. Henry Lee Summer graciously performed at an evening concert for the second consecutive year for a little 500 feature.

This is what Dave Downard actually looked like before the crowd from the previous page engulfed him to pass out congratulations. This isn't the photo finish, but it could have been if the first three cars were reversed. Brothers Tom (2) and Jon (1) Messman successfully hold back the little 500 champion Dave Downard, and the 12th place finisher, Ray Loffredi. Tom finished in third place and Jon finished in second. Tim Stefaniak glides under the bridge and prepares himself and his cart to take on the challenge of the upcoming dog-leg in turn four. Fifth place finisher, Joe Hartman, braces himself with his steering wheel after taking a rough trip through the chicane and passes under the bridge in front of Seifert Hall.

Gentlemen and ladies, start your engines. The crew members of all the teams work diligently to get the carts' engines running for the start of the big race.

Anne Messman, fourth place finisher, leads her brother Tom and Dave Downard through the chicane as spectators in front of Merlini hall enjoy a day in the sun.

That's him folks. That's Dave Downard, the winner of the 25th annual Little 500 keeping his cart well under control as he comes through turn two.

Freshman and rookie Tim Stefaniak leads the pack through the dog-leg of the fourth turn as veterans Jon Messman and Dave Downard keep up a good pace.

Driver, Jon Messman, Crew, Joe Ready to start!

"Look Mom, one hand!" Actually, veteran driver Albert Hanselman had the courtesy to thank some of the young spectators, who keep the race interesting for the drivers, by waving to them. Sorry Joe, advertising isn't going to win brownie points with professor Kasky. Driver Jon Messman and his team were sponsored by Jon's employer G. Robert Kasky, and they finished in second place.

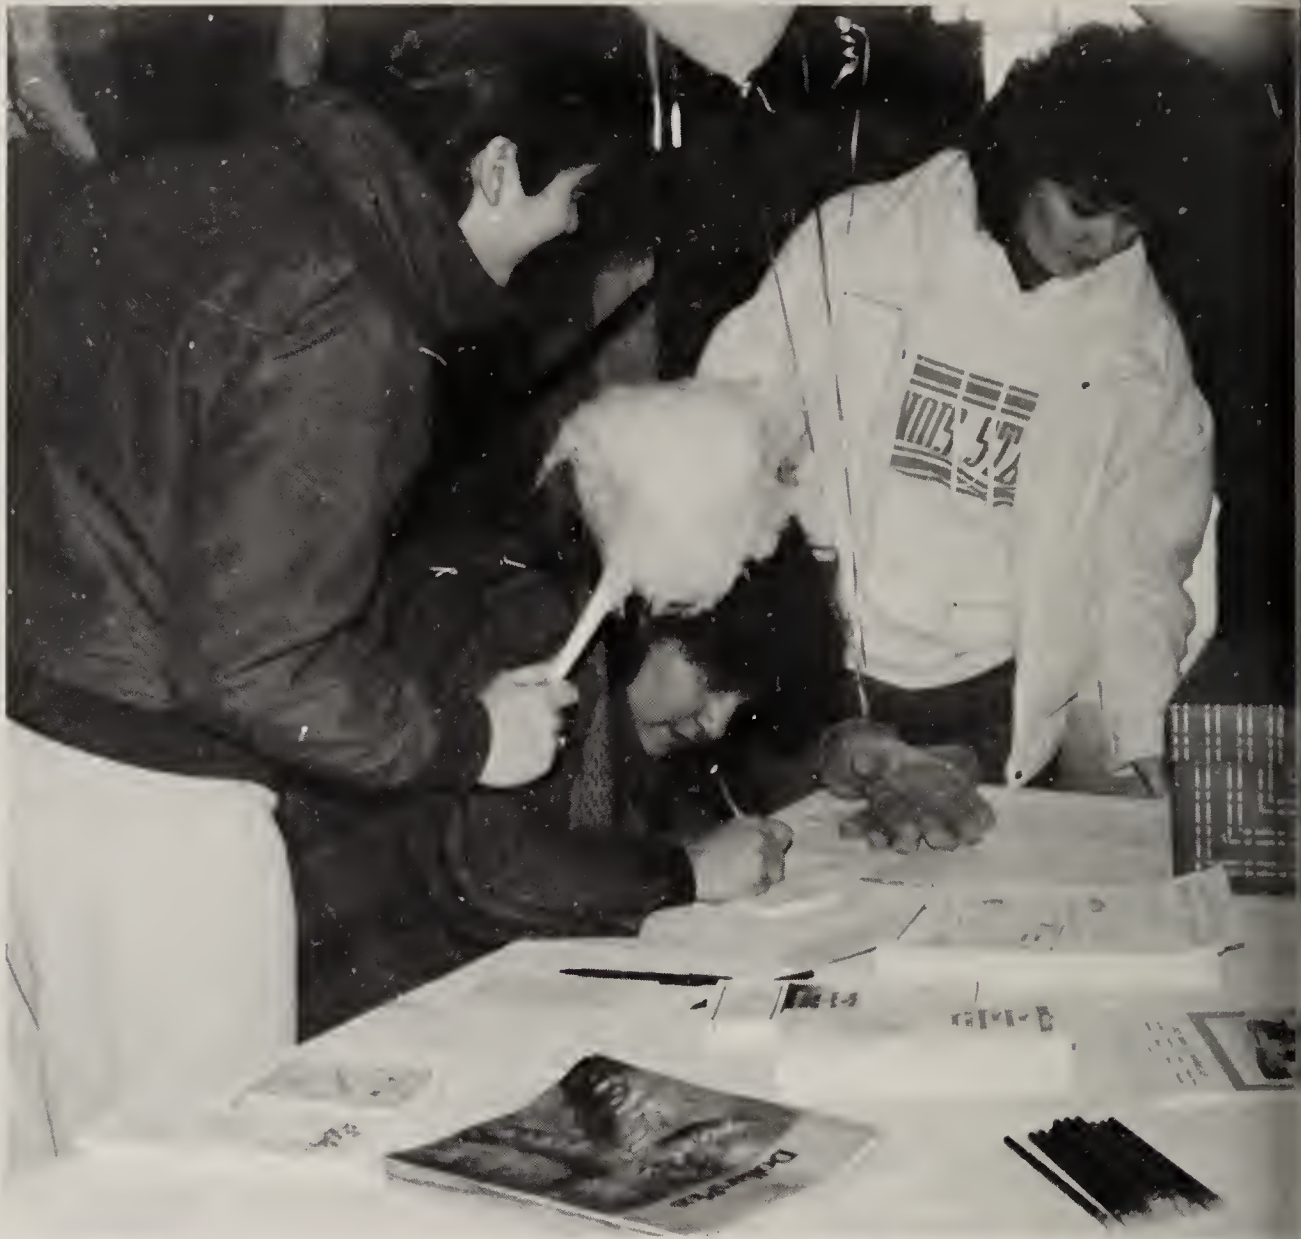

Crew chief Bill Massoels gets cart #2 ready for the start of the race so that all driver Albert Hanselman has to do is jump in and go. Check it out folks. Only at Saint Joe's will you see a live chicane. The spectators outside of Merlini Hall have a front row seat for all of the chicane action.

C o m m u n i t y D a y s

Brian Moebs and Tim O'Connor browse at the wares that the local merchants have on display. Janet Zimmerman and Lisa Fillichio assure that Carla Veneziano fills out her entry blank for the giveaway properly. Mary Beth Donnelly satisfies her sweet tooth by munching on some cotton candy. Taking a break from the hectic pace in the Ballroom, Tim Stefaniak spends his timeout sipping a Pepsi which was distributed by Wallman Foods.

Open House

Rob Sloyan, Floyd Wood, Meri Vallin, Mark Randall, Sharon Gryczewski, and Jon Waters fill prospective students in on the real scene at Saint Joe's during the student forum portion of Open House.

Director of Admissions, Ken Rasp, talks with a parent about the ins and outs of becoming a student at Saint Joe's.

Director of Counseling Services, Diane Jennings, delivers a presentation to prospective students' parents.

Professor Fred Berger discusses the communication program which Saint Joe's offers with an intrigued young man and his parents.

A possible Puma and his mother get the real scoop on the accounting program from senior, Jim Nordhoff, an accounting major himself.

Phonathon

Several dedicated students give freely of their time to help raise money for SJC. Pumas do their part. Todd Stapleton lets his finger do the walking as he dials an alum's phone number.

One of Mike Boyda's hobbies is running as he competes here in the homecoming run.

Neal Mortensen and Jim Matheu stop for a brief conversation before entering the Science building for class. Rich Hoover steps in to accept the crown for the absent Homecoming Queen, Maureen Field.

Pat Leonard pumps the arm for a pass as the opponents try to rush him.

After the Walk-a-thon, Jill Martin enjoys some refreshments.

Theresa Klingenger and Loren Wittenkeller catch up on world happenings as they flip through the daily paper.

Nina Kasch, Carla Veneziano, Hershel Richie, Kris Rowden, Doug Landgraf, and Cindy Mucha are ready to hit the road to represent S.U.B. in Peoria for a programming conference.

Jenny Worden lends a hand at registration as Mr. Hoover looks on.

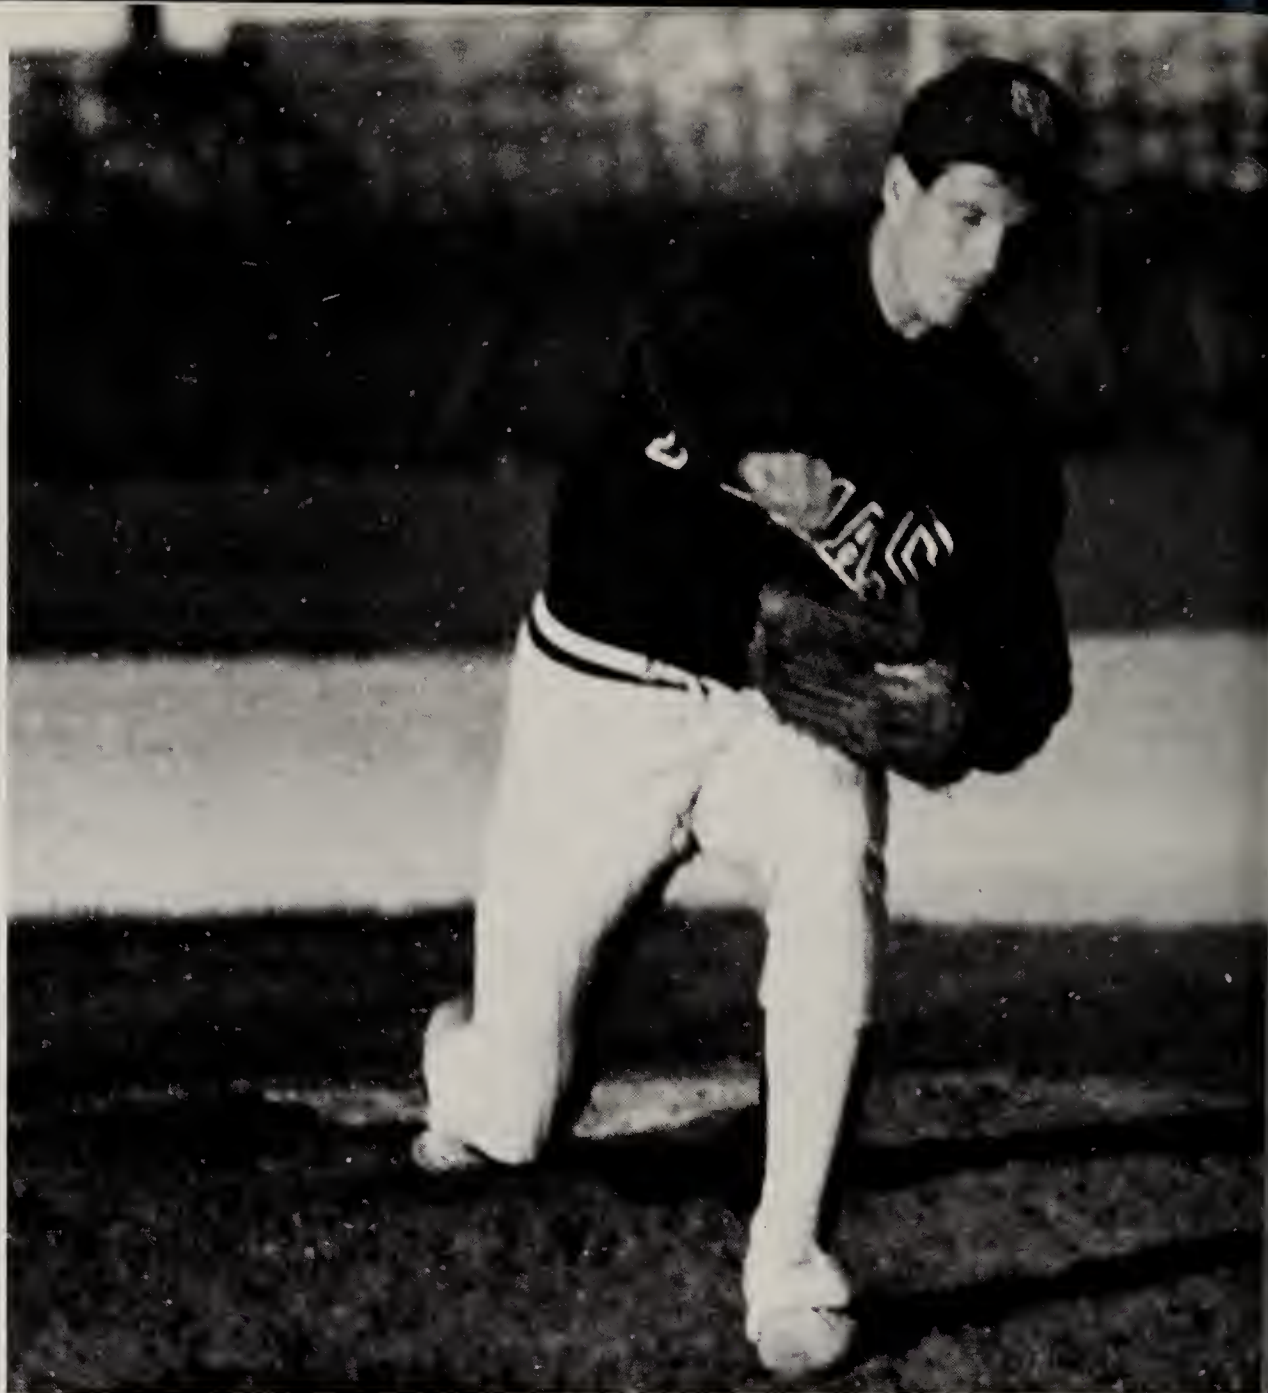

Tom Molloy follows through with the wind-up.
Chris Kleiser has senior Gidget Kuhn tongue-tied for the moment as Gidget makes her way through the campus blood mobile.
Judy Wirtz hostesses a day student luncheon as she did early in the first semester.

Peggie Bott, Liz Echevarria, and Angela Betustak engage in a little conversation prior to the senior Dinner.
 Dave Ernst, Rick Hoover, Jim Jones, Mike Misich, Jim Matheu, Steve Lacni, and Pat Leonard are hardly recognizable all decked out.

Phong Pham and Pat Clarke rub elbows with Father White during cocktail hour.

Seniors of the year nominees Natalie Penz, Tim Daly, and Maureen Field were recognized at the dinner.

Pictured, they are applauding in recognition of Deb Freche, recipient of the award.

Champagne Brunch

Jo Ellen Furjel, Steph Davis, Peggie Bott, Angela Betustak, and Jim Seidler enjoy the delicacies of food and drink!
Joe Whelan, Tom O'Connor, Chris Verthein, Jim Jones and Joe Galullo patiently wait to eat. Tamara Wojasinski and Judy Wirtz lead the way through the buffet line.

Senior Dance

Natalie Penz, recipient of a class award, receives her award with a bit of embarrassment. Jim Collins had the bull by the horns. Phong Pham looks a little tired. It's a long weekend. Joan Hendrie and Father McFarland join in the dancing.

Larry Schmit and Joe Cleary step up to the grill as Val Sperka flips burgers.
R.A.'s Ron McGowan and Seth Johnson do their part to put away some hamburgers.
Families and friends partake of the outdoors as the celebration for the seniors continues.
Chris Zanowski lends a hand with the cooking as well.
Kris Schubach takes a break with some of the people from the Student Affairs staff.

Senior Picnic

Basking in the sunshine and enjoying the food are some family members and friends of the 1988 graduates.

Some proud puma parents head for the grill for some lunch.

Jim Nordhoff and John Pikarski imbibe in the brew. Kevin Quinn and Carl Fech pose for a photo as a memory of their time at Saint Joe's. Pat Leonard is all smiles during Commencement weekend.

Commencement

Father Banet presents an honorary degree to Dr. Ken Ahler, physician in Rensselaer and Board of Trustee member.
Cardinal Bernadine, archbishop of Chicago, gives the Commencement address relating some humorous anecdotes.
Those seated on the court of the Fieldhouse are faculty, administration, members of the Board of Trustees, and the Class of '88.
Deb Freche addresses her fellow classmates as Senior of the Year.
Brother Ed Habrowski escorts Kevin Michalski, Valedictorian, and Deb Freche onto the stage.

President's Reception

Vic Wisner, Mike Kitch, and Paul Noll hold down the fort at the President's Reception. Perhaps they're too cool to dance.

Ed Gray, Jim McLaughlin and his brother count down the hours until graduation.

Kerin O'Rourke whispers something to her dance partner as they both move to the groove.

Pat Leonard, Troy Rush, and Jim Collins couldn't be happier that the end of the year is near.

Baccalaureate Mass

Steve Lacni, Jill Martin, Deb Freche, and Bob Moyer carry up the bread and wine during the offertory procession.
Patty and Tamara Wojasinski play a duet as a prelude to Mass.
Father Banet congratulates the Class of 1988 and encourages them as they venture out on separate paths.
Kevin Quinn reads the prayers of the faithful.

Kevin Murphy, president of the senior class, reads the introduction and relates the theme of the Mass, "Sailing to New Horizons," to those in attendance.

Father Banet with concelebrant, Father Berinti, consecrate the bread and wine.

Jackie Regnier takes her part in the Baccalaureate celebration.

Lisa Schroeder and Pat Leonard share verses of the responsorial psalm.

Dreams Do Come True

Rory's Dic

Rory Johnson is a man who came to Saint Joseph's College in the fall of 1985 with a vision. He worked diligently to see that his dream would come true.

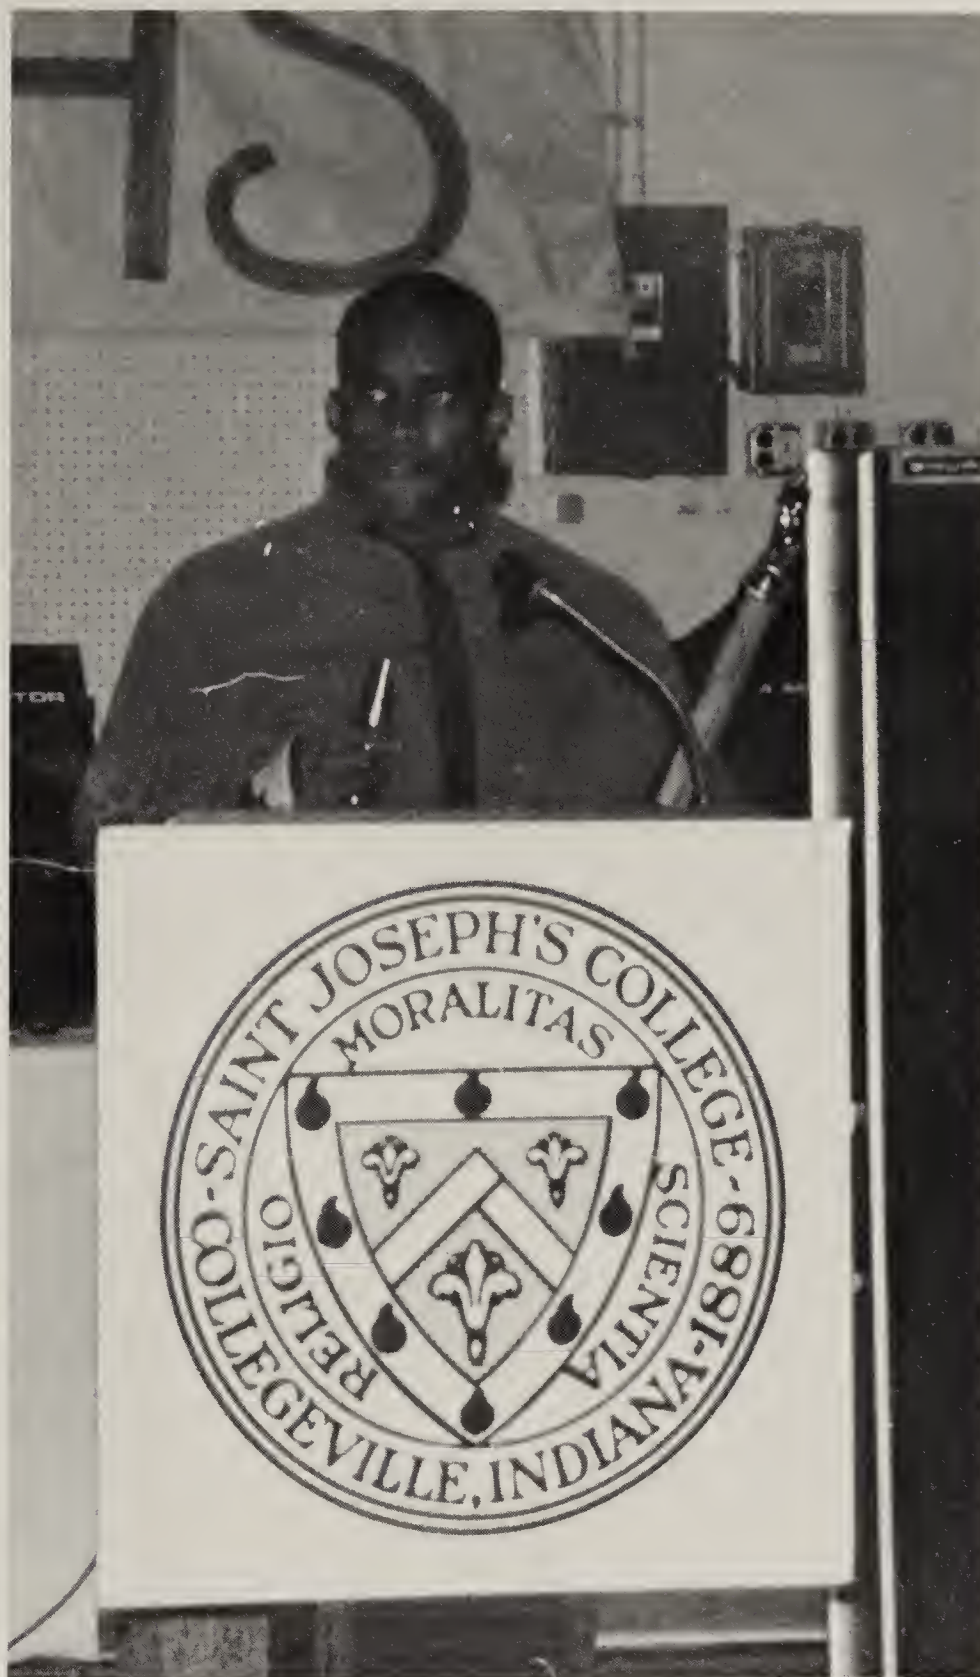

Rory put in many hours both on the football field and in the weight room keeping in shape and continuing his development. He wanted to make it as a professional football player. Without question, there were times of self-doubt and times when others told Rory that his chances weren't so good. However, that didn't dissuade him. In fact, it may have even driven him harder.

Rory wasn't all football. Besides his academics, Rory was employed as a member of both the security staff and the resident assistant staff.

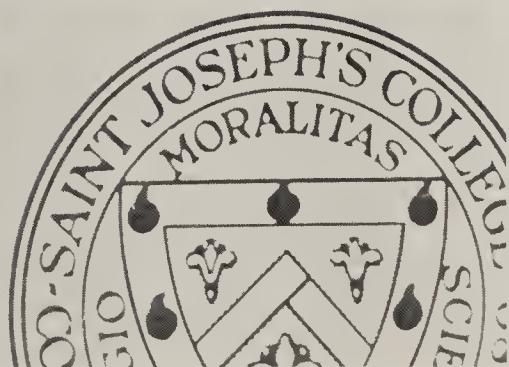

The dream became a reality in early April during the NFL draft. Rory was drafted by the Seattle Seahawks. He was in. However, his final destination was not Seattle. He was traded to the Los Angeles Raiders.

It is refreshing and reassuring to see a dream such as this come true. Rory, all who are associated with Saint Joseph's College want to thank you for helping to put us on the map with your performance as a Puma. We wish you the best! Make us all Proud Pumas!

Several renovations took place on campus this spring. A severe storm in early April uprooted trees, broke a cement cross off the top of McHale, tore tiles from the Chapel roof, and blew out several sections of the stained glass windows in the Chapel.

Another project came to completion in late April and May. The building housing the post office was demolished and operations began in the new post office further south of the old site. A company from Minnesota removed and purchased the roofing tiles. Following, a few weeks later, came the fall of the building.
